

Review

Simple sentence: subject, verb, complete thought

Compound sentence: two simple sentences combined with a conjunction

Label the sentences below S for simple or C for compound.

1. Her hair shimmered brightly in the blue moonlight.

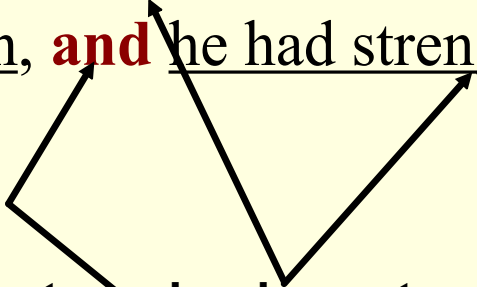

2. This gladiator was different from all the others that had been brought here.

3. The new man had a courage I'd never seen, and he had strength like no one else.

1. Lelanni's hair shimmered brightly in the blue moonlight. Simple

2. This gladiator was different from all the others that had been brought here. Simple

3. The new man had a courage I'd never seen, and he had strength like no one else. Compound

two simple sentences connected with a conjunction